

Contents

Foreword by Prof. Linda Richter	vii
About the Authors	ix
Acknowledgements	xi
1. Introduction	1
LESLIE SWARTZ, KERRY GIBSON AND TAMARA GELMAN
2. Healing Relationships Between Psychologists and Communities: How Can We Tell Them if They Don't Want to Hear?	9
KERRY GIBSON
3. From Idealism to Reality: Learning from Community Interventions	23
CAROL STERLING
4. Black Students' Experiences of Training at a 'White' Institution	33
RUCKSANA CHRISTIAN, MOLEFI MOKUTU AND MATSHEDISO RANKOE
5. Providing a Containing Space for Unbearable Feelings	45
RIKA VEN DEN BERG
6. The Consultation Relationship: Reflections on a Psychological Consultation Partnership	57
ANASTASIA MAW

7. Too Close for Comfort: Emotional Ties Between Nurses and Patients 73
HESTER VAN DER WALT
8. Disability and Psychotherapy: an Ideologically Charged Relationship in Community Mental Health Service Provision 85
BRIAN WATERMEYER
9. The 'Good Enough' Community: Power and Knowledge in South African Community Psychology 99
MARK TOMLINSON AND LESLIE SWARTZ
10. Psychoanalytic Community Psychology: Crossing Worlds or Worlds Apart? 113
CAROL LONG